EDITOR AND WIFE ARE SENT TO JAIL

Charged With Libeling The Ray Politicians Of Logan.

Russellville, Ky., June 10—Logan County got the thrill of its life this morning when A. M. Herndon, editor of the Russellville Messenger, his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Chandler Herndon, associate editor, were arrested on a warrant charging them with criminal libel. They were both placed in jail.

Capt. Frank M. Logan, also an editor of the Messenger, was indicted jointly with the Herndons, but was not arrested for the reason he is now in Lexington attending a meeting of the Knights of Pythias.

The arrest caused a real sensation and the incident was still the talk of the town tonight. Important developments are expected in the next few days as excitement is intense, due to the prominence of the principals to the controversy.

The arrest of the Herndons is expected to further complicate matters in the Third Congressional District, where Democratic politics is in the most muddled condition ever known to that section.

Mrs. Herndon Faints.

The Herndons refused to give bond, were taken to jail, but soon afterwards were admitted to bail. On being released from jail Mrs. Herndon fainted and was taken to a room in a hotel which she was passing at the time. A physician was called and in a short time she had recovered sufficiently to be at her desk in the Messenger office. The indictment was based on an editorial which appeared in the Messenger May 1, in which the paper announced its purpose to oppose T. S. Rhea as a candidate for governor.

The Messenger recently printed a number of editorials in which it announced its intention of riddling Logan County of "political domination." It charged certain influences in the county with winking at fraudulent election practices. In the same breath the Messenger had the audacity to mention the name of T. S. Rhea, then a candidate for governor, leading banker of Russellville, and formerly one of the state Democracy's stanchest wheel horses.

The offending editorial, which brought about the indictment, said, in part:

"We may be asked that if it be true that the law has been violated why we don't go to court and ask that those guilty of violation of the law be punished. Our answer is that under the conditions heretofore stated we consider the fact that the court which tries the case and the sheriff who selects the jury have been elected to office by the same machine and therefore we do not think there would be much chance of conviction—in fact, about the same chance as a worsted dog would have chasing an asbestos cat through hell."

Circuit Judge John S. Ithea is a brother of Tom S. Rhea. Judge Ithea called the grand jury together and charged its members especially with reference to the publication mentioned, stating that the jury must indict either the officers of the court or the editors of the paper. It is said also that when the indictment was not immediately forthcoming he went before the grand jury in person and insisted upon the return of an indictment.

The jailing of Mrs. Herndon, especially aroused public sentiment here as nothing before had ever done. She is universally popular, is a daughter of the late Rev. James S. Chandler and a sister of Rev. J. A. Chandler, pastor of Lander Memorial church, in Louisville. She is prominent in church circles and is an officer of the Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. She charges that she was taken to jail and was compelled to stand during the entire time she was there as there was no chair or other furniture upon which she might sit down. It was the exhaustion that caused her to faint when she left the jail, she said.

CROMWELL MARSHAL MUST ANSWER WARRANT

A warrant was returned in Judge Cook's court, charging Jesse Embry, Marshal of Cromwell, with exercising the duties of an officer without having duly qualified by making bond. The warrant grew out of the arrest by the Marshal of Irvin Shields, in which it is alleged the officer assaulted Shields with a black jack. Embry claims to have executed bond as required by statu. Another warrant also was issued for Embry charging him with assault. In turn Embry swore out a warrant against Avery Stewart, charging him with obstructing an officer in the discharge of his duty. The cases will be heard in county court to-day.

J. W. McCULLOCH SUES INSURANCE COMPANIES

J. W. McCulloch, trustee, and the Green River Distilling Company have instituted 65 suits in the Daviess County Circuit Court against practically all of the leading fire insurance companies of this country, asking for judgments totalling $2,541,851 as a result of the fire that destroyed the distillery and warehouses last August with a loss of more than $3,000,000.

The suits resulted in a dispute over the price that the whisky was worth at the time of the fire, the insurance companies have been unwilling to pay more than $1.25 a gallon on the whisky loss. The distillery officials claim that the whisky ranged from $1.25 to $3.25 a gallon in value according to age. All efforts to reach a settlement have failed. The officials of the Green River Distilling Company have their head office in New York.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN SURRENDERS TO DEATH

Joseph H. Smith, of Rockport, seventy years old and a veteran of the civil war, died June 7. Mr. Smith was born in Schuylkill county, Penn., and when a young man enlisted in the Union army, with the 129th Inf't, served through the war and was promoted for bravery and efficient service on the field of battle. After the close of the war he came to Kentucky and was employed as a stationary engineer in the mines at Echols, for more than forty years. He was in many respects a remarkable man, being always honest, careful in the discharge of his work, and kindly disposed to all with whom he had to deal. In the forty years he hoisted coal and men and mules at the mines he never had an accident that injured man or beast. He was a devoted husband, a worthy father and enjoyed the respect of all who knew him. He was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church, died in the faith, and the funeral service was conducted by Rev. Hotelkiss, Pastor of the Rockport Presbyterian church.

The active pall bearers were eight world war veterans in uniform, Dr. C. R. Layton, John D. Ham, Ray Harrel, Travis Maples, Alva Landrum, French and Ottlett Carter. The grave was decorated with flowers, by the ladies of Rockport, and an old ex-Rebel planted the stars and stripes over the remains of one of his most highly esteemed friends. The family has the sympathy of the entire community and especially of the writer. God rest his soul and comfort his children and friends.

A friend.

RED LITERATURE IN LOUISVILLE P. O.

Cards Bearing Bolshevik Sentiment Found On Desk.

Radical Socialistic propaganda has been scattered throughout the city by followers of Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, the Spartacus leaders.

Cards bearing Bolshevik sentiments were discovered in piles on the writing desks of the post-office today by watchman John Woerner, who seized them and reported the matter to Custodian Pres Ray. Mr. Ray took the matter up with the United States District Attorney.

What Cards Say.
"Christ died to give us Spiritual Liberty," reads an inscription on one side of the small cards, about 2 by 4 inches in size.

"Our forefathers bled to give us Political Liberty."

"Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg died to give us Industrial Liberty."

"What do you say?"

Off To The Grave.

On the reverse side is a poem called "The Proletarian's Lullaby," which is as follows:

"Rock-a-bye baby on the tree top, When you grow up you will work in a shop, When you get married your wife will work, too, So that the plutes may have nothing to do."

"Rock-a-bye baby on the tree top, When you grow old your wages will stop, When you have spent the little you save, Then rock-a-bye baby, off to the grave."

Not Believed Criminal.

White noting criminal is believed to be contained in the literature itself, it undoubtedly is being spread by the "Reds" called Bolshevik in Russia and in Germany.

Dr. Karl Liebknecht and "Red Rosa" Luxemburg, referred to on the card, were the radical leaders in Germany who were seized and executed by Berlin mob when they attempted to overthrow the bourgeois republican Government under Elbert which was yet set up in Berlin.

Liebknecht was shot by soldiers and "Red Rosa," a Polish Jewess by birth, was beaten to death and her body thrown in a canal, where it only recently was discovered.

The "Reds" are known as the "proletarian party" the world over and are fond of giving themselves this title. "Plutes" referred to in the propaganda are the plutocrats.

Federal authorities have given orders that any such literature found to be seized and Custodia Ray ordered the watchman to keep a lookout for the distributors of the propaganda. A strict investigation was ordered by the District Attorney.

NEGRO DRAWS FINE FOR POINTING GUN

Virgil Thomas, a negro farm hand of Harriet Ferry, was given a fine of $50 and cost, by a jury in Judge Cook's court Friday. Lorenzo Bennett was the complaining witness. The charge was pointing a gun. The evidence developed the fact that while engaged in the settling of some trifling business transaction a dispute arose, during which Thomas drew a gun and threatened to kill Bennett. Bennett being unarmed walked away and Thomas followed him, again making threats of violence. A warrant was sworn out charging Thomas with flourishing a gun, on the public highway, trial upon which charge has not been had.

ROAD ENGINEERS GO OVER COUNTY ROUTE

Engineers went over the Ohio county section of the Owensboro-Holloway Green post road Monday and Tuesday. Engineer Spurrier, of Daviess county; John H. Wilson, of Ohio county, and State Engineer Crozier made the preliminary survey. These men will turn in their report to state road director Wiley from which he will make upon the low cost of construction to present to the federal road authorities. While the engineers would give no definite statement, reserving their report for the proper authorities, Mr. Crozier commented upon the low cost of construction.

tion possible on the road between Hartford and Green river. Those of our citizens giving the closest attention to the matter confidently believe this road will be under construction before the end of August.

AN AGED CITIZEN

ANSWERS LAST CALL.

Mr. Robert T. Herler died at the residence of his son, Mr. Cleve Herler, here Friday morning. His death was due to the wear and waste of 83 years of life. Burial was at Mt. Olivet, in Muhlenburg county, after funeral services conducted by Rev. R. D. Bennett.

Mr. Herler was one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of Hartford, having been in the saddle and harness business here for many years before his retirement from active business a few years ago.

It may be truly said that no better citizen than "Uncle" Bob Herler ever lived in the county, and his memory is a treasure to a large number of friends.

He is survived by five children: Mrs. C. M. Fulkerson, of O'Bion, Tennessee; Mrs. P. Jones, Ceraldo; Mr. E. Herler, of Rockport; Mrs. T. J. Mullin, of Princeton, Ind., and J. C. Herler, of Hartford.

FARMERS FIGHTING AGAINST BIG ODDS

County Agent McCracken reports the farmers fighting furiously against great odds in the matter of getting out their crops, and they are making headway. This has been perhaps the wettest spring ever encountered by the present generation of farmers, and crop planting has been a task of unusual difficulty. But growing impatient with the advance of the season the farmers doubled their efforts, plowed rain or shine, and have succeeded in planting at least half of the corn crop, and perhaps seventy-five percent of the tobacco crop. There are yet fifteen days more of the planting season and much additional planting will be done. However, wheat harvest, already begun, will prove a serious handicap to further planting. Much pessimistic speculation has been indulged in regard to the wheat yield, but Mr. McCracken thinks if the grain can be securely harvested a seventy-five per cent yield may be expected.

SENATE RESOLUTION OF VITAL IMPORTANCE

Separation of Treaty And League Of Nations Demanded.

that the President will declare demobilization of the army complete before the first of July, the effect of which will be to reestablish the manufacture of beers and wines.

Effective July 1, the five internal revenue offices in Kentucky will be consolidated into one office, located at Louisville.

The L. & N. Railroad Company will lay off 1000 men at its Louisville shops. Reduction of railroad employees on a large scale is contemplated as a retrenchment in operating expenses.

SCRAPS TELL STORY OF FAMILY HISTORY

While enjoying recently a very agreeable visit with the family of Mr. Nat Lindley, of Matanzas, we were shown an interesting collection of family keepsakes that date back for more than a century. Among these was a glass canteen carried by an ancestor of Mrs. Lindley while a soldier in the Revolutionary war. The covering was a cane lace and the finest piece of work of the kind we had ever seen.

It is proposed that the peace treaty shall be so drawn that the question of a League of Nations shall be reserved for consideration by the people of any nation without effecting Germany's obligations in the actual settlement of peace terms.

New Policy Proposed.

It proposes that the Senate declare it the policy of the United States Government that should the peace and freedom of Europe again be threatened by any power or combination of powers the United States will regard such a situation as a menace to itself and would pledge the United States, if necessary, to go to the defense of civilization again.

The resolution was ordered by Senator Knox after a conference with Chairman Lodge of the committee and there were evidences that it would have the backing of most of those who have conducted the fight against the league.

The Knox resolution was referred without debate to the Foreign Relations Committee and the storm for the day appeared to have passed over.

ELOQUENT KENTUCKIAN AT LINCOLN BANQUET

In Louisville February 12
1919 Pays Tribute
To State.

There is no altar of national love or national service on which Kentucky has not proudly laid her priceless gifts of head and heart, of soul and body. There has been no march of progress in which she did not share, no field of endeavor in which she did not toil, no victory which she did not help to win, no defeat in which she did not suffer, and no star on the flag which she did not help to keep in its field of blue.

First begotten of the womb of the Union, first nursing at the ample breast of the motherland, she will be the last to desert or dishonor her. To tell the full story of Kentucky's gifts to the life and progress of the Nation; to recount the lofty deeds or give the names of her distinguished sons, is impossible in the brief time now allowed. We can only sketch the mountain peaks of her influence. During the years of her terrible struggle for existence, even before her entrance into the Union, her hardy sons and noble daughters were leading the vanguard in the march of the Nation's progress. Leading in that march of civilization started by Boone and his companions when they threw themselves beyond the walls of the Appalachians and through the gaps of the Cumberland, and which was to lead on beyond the Missouri across the Western prairies, "beyond the frowning barrier of the Rockies, down to the lapping waters of the Pacific, where now teeming cities light their lamps by the setting sun ere it sinks to rest in ocean's outstretched arms!" Ah, pioneers of Kentucky! wilderness road! crimsoned with blood, golden with romance and legend, your story will be told as long as history finds a pen, or truth a tongue. Boone! Kenton! Harrod! Whitley! Logan! Your moccasined feet have left forever their imprint on the shores of time.

Kentucky is Landed.

It was the Kentucky pioneer—"those knights in buckskin"—who followed the vision-granted quest of George Rogers Clark, and who, starting from this spot, at the falls of the Ohio, pressed on through swamps and morass, through snow and ice, "through difficulties that immortalized endurance" to the walls of Old Vincennes, where they took from the sky the flag of England and gave that priceless jewel—"The Northwest"—to glitter forever in the diadem of the new-born republic. Sons of such sires, heirs of such traditions, it is no wonder that the sons and daughters of Kentucky have, in the life and thought and deeds of the Nation, taken high place and rank, nor that Kentucky has given noble gifts to the Nation.

To the cause of education she gave the first newspaper and the first library west of the Appalachians, and was among the first States of the Union to imbed deep in the foundation of her government that rock of ages—the American common free school. In the realm of statesmanship we point with pride to Beck, Breckinridge, Letcher, Carlisle and to Clay, the great compromiser, who stood with loving heart and lofty brain between the North and South.

and, like Moses serving his people, held back for years the cruel waves of fratricidal strife. In jurisprudence to Nicholas, Hoyle, Robertson and Harlan, the great dissenters. In oratory to Marshall, Menefee, and Clay, of the older school, and to Bradbury and James, of the new. In surgery to McDowell, the father of ovariotomy, and to Brashear, who first amputated the thigh at the hip joint. In journalism to Penn and Prentiss, and to the greatest Roman of them all, our own "Marse Henry," who first, and for months alone, sounded that stirring bugle call which was at last to swell into the national chorus, "To hell with the Hohenzoillers and the Hapsburgs."

Great Inventors.

In invention to John Fitch and James Rumsey, who first mastered the principles of the steamboat, and to Barlow, who invented the planetarium, and made a model of the first locomotive. In theology to Bascom, Waller, Rice, and Alexander Campbell, who in the wilderness gave to religion a new faith now numbering thousands of followers. In art to Jouett, who, with cunning brush, so truthfully delineated the human features as to almost make his canvas breathe and speak; to Joel Hart, the sculptor, whose genius touched cold and formless marble to make it blush at its own loveliness. In poetry to O'Hara, who wrote the immortal elegy for all heroic dead.

The Great Song.

To music Kentucky gave a deathless song, one which blends in its heart of melody the mysteries of twilight and moonrise, the glory of the breaking day, the tenderness of siren mother crooning soft and low, the light of hearthstone fires, faces of those adored, and visions of the loved and lost, and which, speaking a universal language, tugs with memories' hands at the heartstrings of every wanderer as he listens to the call of the land of his birth in the tender, holy, beautiful strains of "My Old Kentucky Home."

Golden Burley There.

To luxury and dreams the Bluegrass State has given its leaves of golden Burley, whose subtle spirit when "released by fire steals into the fortress of the brain and binds fast the sentinels of grief and care."

To the sport of kings, to thrill the hearts and tense the muscles of thousands of breathless spectators, she has given the wild tattoo beat by the flying hoofs of Kentucky's thoroughbreds as the flash like light beneath the wire. To gladden and glorify the hearts of men we have given (when we had to) the perfect, gracious, beautiful gift—the roses out of paradise—the women of Kentucky.

The Supreme Gift.

If there had been in all Kentucky but one travay of birth, and that in an miserable, pitiable log cabin, but one crooning love song to a babe held in the hollow of a mother's shoulder—and that mother, Nancy Hanks, and that babe, Abraham Lincoln—this birth alone would have been enough to make very foot of Kentucky soil holy, sacred ground forever.

Bunker Hill 'To Chateau Thierry.

In every struggle for our existence, in every hour of our country's need, from Bunker Hill to Chateau Thierry, Kentucky has kept step and heart-beat with the Nation. In the Revolution the long rifles of the Kentuckians helped to circie King's Mountain with a ring of fire. In 1812 they died at the "melancholy Raisin," and under gallant Richard Johnson they found revenge at the battle of the Thames.

At New Orleans they stood by the side of "Old Hickory" and with unerring aim shot the redeyes where their white belts crossed above their hearts until they broke and fled. On the lakes they furnished to victorious Perry more than one-fourth of his command. It is almost unbelievable, but true, that in the total casualties of this war Kentucky suffered more than one-third. In Mexico they sanctified with their blood on the fields of Cerro Gordo, Chapultepec and sanguinary Buena Vista, where fell McKee, young Harry Clay and gallant Vaughn. In the great Civil War Kentucky furnished the commanders-in-chief of both armies—Lincoln and Davis—and to the two contending hosts she gave more soldiers than the total of her voters. Like plumed knights to lead the hosts of battle, she gave Morgan and Wolford, Breckinridge and Ironsides, Linn and Hanson, Duke and Adams, and at the close she was the first State in the Union, by legislative enactment, to take back to her war-scarred breast her children—no matter whether they wore the Gray or the Blue.

In the greatest, and we pray God it may be the last struggle for freedom, Kentucky, with an unimpaired loyalty, met every demand, filled every quota and oversubscribed her share of every Liberty Loan. THE SONG OF WOODROW.

When Germany provoked a war
Of frightfulness unknown before,
Who wrote epistles by the score?
 'Twas Woodrow.

Who watched the havoc Germans
wrought,
And when our aid poor Belgium
sought,
Who preached Neutrality of thought?
 'Twas Woodrow.

Who saw French cities overrun,
And desecrated by the Hun,
And said, that nothing should be done?
 'Twas Woodrow.

When babes were massacred at sea.
Who said, "How rude those Germans be."
Another note is due from me?
 'Twas Woodrow.

When we were asked to aid the plight
Of Allies struggling for the right,
Who said, "We are too proud to fight?"
 'Twas Woodrow.

Who captured ballots by the score,
And held the chair he'd held before,
Because he kept us out of war?
 'Twas Woodrow.

But when at last the Country chose
To raise in arms against our foes
Who quickly struck the martial pose?
 'Twas Woodrow.

At Chateau-Thierry, who fought well,
Who chained the Huns at St. Mihel,
And on the Meuse, Who gave them
Hell?
 Not Woodrow.

And who should go, with courage for freedom. From the Bluegrass lovable Reuben Hutchcraft to fill a hero's grave; from the proud followers of her old Legion, and to the role of the heroic dead she gave Humphries, noble-hearted Charlie Gardner, gallant Hunter and many another to find a grave in the land of Lafayette.

On Fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
Where glory guards with solemn
 'Tround the bivouac of the dead.

Tonight, thrilled with the memory of our glorious traditions and the recollections of our deathless dead; in this hour consecrated by the memory of Abraham Lincoln let us solemnly rededicate ourselves to the service of our State. Let us solemnly determine that with the help of God the future of Kentucky shall be worthy of her past. Let us highly resolve that our country shall have our full devotion and the best service of our hearts and hands. In this spirit we send our greetings and divide our hearts with the sister States of the Republic. And for the welfare of all we devoutly pray:

"Lord of the universe! shield us and guide us,
Trusting Thee always through shadow and sun!
Thou hast united us, who shall divide us?
Keep us, oh, keep us, the Many in One!
Up with our banner bright,
Sprinkled with starry light;
Spread its fair emblem from mountain to shore;
While through the sounding sky
Loud rings the Nation's cry—
Union and Liberty!—one evermore!"

There are actually, over 147 brands of cigarettes sold in this country. But, not one of them does what Chesterfields do, for Chesterfields do more than please the taste—they touch the smoke-spot—they let you know you are smoking and—they satisfy!

It's all in the blend—a blend of fine selected TURKISH and DOMESTIC tobaccos—just the right kind and the right quantity of each.

There never was a cigarette that grew faster in popular favor because no cigarette ever gave such value.

LAST MAN WHO FOUGHT IN MEXICAN WAR DEAD

San Jose, Cal., June 3.—Dr. Russell B. Tripp, said to have been the last Mexican War veteran in this country, died here yesterday within twenty days of his 100th birthday. He was a delegate to the first Republican national convention.

HOLSEVICKI (Bau-shee-vee-key)
MEANING MAJORITY

Bolshevism is practically Syndicalism—in other words, all industries are to be seized, not by the Government, but by individual workmen who happen to be employed in those industries—using violence if need be and eliminating all men of special training or ability. This leaves the complete ownership and control of large and small industries in the hands of workmen of the lowest grade and peasants.

Bolshevism differs from Socialism in that the Socialist require that the positions of importance to be given to the ablest men. Bolshevism masquerades in the United States as the I. W. W. as they preach the same doctrines as the Bolsheviks.—From reference files N. Y. Public Library.

STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Marion Holcomb, of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these, I would be constipated. It just seemed to tear my stomach all up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. I heard

FRIDAY JUNE 13

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce I.
S. Mason a candidate for Representative of Ohio county, subject to the action of the Republican party at the primary election August 2, 1919.

We are authorized to announce George Baker, of Muhlenburg county a candidate for the nomination for State Senator in the 7th Senatorial district, composed of the counties of Muhlenburg, Butler and Ohio, subject to the action of the Republican party at the primary election, August 2, 1919.

We are authorized to announce
Dr. T. G. Turner, of Muhlenburg County, as a candidate for the nomination for State Senator in the 7th Senatorial district, composed of Ohio, Butler and Muhlenburg counties, subject to the action of the Republican Party at the primary election, August 2, 1919.

It is a fair assumption that the preponderance of American sentiment is for this country to get out of Europe as soon as practical, and to leave no entangling alliances behind.

The automobile is the great leveler
of country and city life, and it wants only good roads to bring the best culture of the times to the door of the farm boy and girl.

Union county voted the 20 cent road tax by a majority of 1060. One by one the counties are dropping into line. If the fiscal court will give our voters another chance at the August primary they will go over the top.

It is June, and another June is the reason for holding national conventions and yet nobody seems to have a guess coming on the nomination of either party for president. The war seems to have taken the "tick" out of politics.

Blessed as we are with a net work of railroads few of us Ohio county people would be willing to move into a county that has no railroads, and did it ever occur to you that people living in counties with good roads would hesitate quite as much to move into this county where we do not have them?

The Armenian and Syrian relief fund and the Salvation Army drivers should be driven to a speedy and successful end and then perhaps it would be well to let up on the "drive" for a season. All the purposes for which money had been asked of the public were worthy ones, but there is a limit to which people of moderate means may give.

It will be a fortunate day for our farm boys when their parents send them to the agricultural rather than to the literary college. Wanting the personal experience the average farmer overjudges the fortune that favors him with a chair in a city office. The freedom and independence of farm life, when the farm is really worth while, bring a degree of contentment and happiness rarely enjoyed in other slavery.

The administration plays a strange game of statecraft in attempting to keep a copy of the peace treaty from the American public. The document has been printed and widely distributed in Germany and the neutral countries of Europe, and, of course, found its way to this country. Even then administration senators attempted to prevent senator Borah from reading it into the record of the senate.
This action is in strange contrast with the President's vaunted doctrine of open diplomacy.

A resolution has been introduced in the United States senate notifying the American peace commissioners at Versailles that the senate will not ratify a treaty incorporating the proposed League of Nations, and advising the Commission that it is its proper business to conclude a treaty of peace with Germany, release our soldiers from military service, restore peace to the world and attend to the League of Nations afterward. There is no doubt that this resolution reflects the overwhelming sentiment of the people of the United States.

The congress has passed the resolution submitting a suffrage amendment
for the ratification of the states,
but this action does not insure woman suffrage by national action. It requires the votes of three-fourths of the states to ratify a constitutional amendment. Thirteen states can reject it. Most of the southern states will offer the bugbear
of the negro women as an excuse for rejecting the suffrage amendment, and it is more than probable that enough states from other sections of the Union will join with the negro bearing south to block the movement.

The contest between Governor
Black and Chief Justice Carroll waxed warmer. The chief issue just now is a letter written several years ago by Governor Black, then Assistant Attorney General for the state, to the L & N Railroad Company requesting a pass for a friend of Mr. Black. The letter mentioned the prominence of the party for whom the pass was asked, mentioned his usefulness to the railroad company and seductively added that his relatives sometimes sat on juries. Governor Black does not deny the authenticity of the letter
but seeks to explain its objectionable meaning.

The square dance is a form of exercise that develops grace of movement and supplies a pleasurable amusement for those who engage in it, and when conducted under reasonable restrictions is open to no criticism.

Even the round dance, when the touch respects the rules demanded by taste and modesty, may be allowable, but when it indulges license of embrace that can not fail to arouse the voluptuous passions it becomes a danger to morals of the young men and women who indulge it, and mothers thoughtful for the priceless virtue of their daughters should authoritatively forbid them to engage in it.

Notwithstanding the pending federal prohibition amendment Kentucky will vote on state wide prohibition at the November election. The adoption of the state wide amendment
should be accomplished without division of the voters. Whatever difference of opinion may exist about the practicability of prohibition it should be given a fair trial. There is no disputing the fact that the liquor business as at present conducted is a great evil that needs correction, and whatever plans one may have for making such correction it is clear the country is going to try no other plan until complete prohibition has been given a trial. Let us try it and if it works keep it and if it fails turn them to a more practical plan.
Right the wrong the way to a final adjustment of the liquor question is through home dry prohibition legislation.

The United States senate is about to pass a resolution notifying president Wilson that the League of Nations covenant must be separated from the peace treaty to insure the ratification of the treaty and the Louisville Times grows frantic over the senate's action. It bewails the calamities even for the senate implicating the President. The Times assures us the senate's action is the most wicked since the days of Burr and Wilkinson, and rails upon the people to flood the August Chamber with letters and telegrams and to besiege it with protesting delegations.
The Times overlooks the fact that the senate was only recently commissioned by the American people to make its laws as well to safeguard its treaties, and that the President is laboring under the handicap of a recent vote of want of confidence by the nation. And may the Times not be reminded there is a possibility of more wisdom in the council of 96
senators than in a single mind,
though it is the mind of a president?

A $13,000,000 campaign is on to help the Salvation Army clear its obligations incurred during the war.
No more worthy call has gone to the public for assistance. It may justly be said that no other religious organization approached the work of these humble people in the camps and trenches during the war. Ask the boys who were there who was their best friend. Other organizations did worthy work, but they were empowered by overmuch system and munificence. The Salvation Army people went direct to the boys on the firing line, to the wounded on their coys and to the graves of dead. These people come chiefly from the gutter and the ditch. They know the weakness and sorrows of men as no other people know them, and their sympathy reaches down wherever human suffering appeals. These humble servants of mankind are not too proud, women no less than men, to go into the shuns and dens of vice and crime and appeal to criminals and cut-throats to break their wretched shackles and live. The work they do is worthy to be rewarded, and this call for help should be heard with attention and rewarded with liberality.

WHY HIGHER TAXES.

Throughout all Kentucky farm lands have been raised sky high by the State Tax Commission, and taxes in the total have been increased until the burden is almost unbearable.

The tax-payer sees no increased benefits, no increased good effects of government and nothing to show for the money he is paying. We sometimes ask, why? What is the reason?
Think over the following figures
and you will begin to see the light.

The present Democratic administration has collected in taxes from the people six million dollars more than was ever collected by any other state administration—and yet the state's interest bearing debt has grown greater by two million dollars and has now reached the staggering sum of five million dollars, which is bearing five per cent interest, or $250,- 000 every year. No plan has been provided by the present administration, and the party responsible for the state debt, to meet or pay it.—
no policy inaugurated to reduce it,
no cutting down of expenditure, no abolishment of useless offices, but those who would not drive their political henchmen and favorites from the pie counter—those who would not stop the leaks in the Treasury are now attempting to raise the assessment of every farmer's land, and in a left-handed way to raise the tax rate and so provide more pap, pie
and jobs.

The staggering sum of six million dollars, the increased state debt of two million dollars and the sum total of the state's obligation of five million dollars, drawing interest at the rate of $250,000 a year, is the real reason back of the present unsatisfactory tax law, and the PRODUCING CAUSE of the increased assessments made upon farm lands. You can vote for the party responsible for these figures or you can vote to rebuke that party.

A vote under the Rooster means that you stand for it.

A vote under the Fog Cabin means that you will not stand for it.

"The Greatest Of Them All"

Head And Shoulders Above The Crowd Stands Thomas A. Edison.

"Head and shoulders" above the crowd of ordinary phonographs and "talking machines" stand Edison's great contribution to the world's civilization.

THE NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA

No product can be bigger than the brain that evolves it. No other brain in the world to-day has the inventive ability of Edison's. That fact alone is sufficient proof of the absolute superiority of the Amberola.

But the Amberola can quickly and easily prove its own superiority. Its tone—oh, what a revelation compared to that of metallic "talking machines" and shrill sounding phonographs! None but Edison could work that masterpiece of tone. Then the Amberola records made for the Amberola alone. They are practically unbreakable and everlasting. What a contrast to the costly fragilities of other phonograph records!

And for range of music the widest in the world all the best, all the greatest,

Prices $41 and Up.

Free Trial Offer
We will place an Amberola in your home for 3 days' trial, which will not bind you under the slightest obligation or expense. Come here, select an Amberola and a number of records, and we'll send them to your home. At the end of three days, if you do not want the Amberola, we'll call and take it away. If you do want it, we'll arrange terms of payment to suit you.

We'll expect you in to-day—now don't forget.

THE FRIENDLY TOBACCO

Thar's two things can't be imitated—youthful charm and mellow old age.

Velvet Joe

"Mellow old age" in good Kentucky Burley Tobacco is reached after it has cured for two years.

We put millions of pounds in warehouses every year, to ripen for two years. It is a slow, expensive method. But it makes Velvet as good a pipe tobacco as money can buy.

It makes Velvet mellow and friendly—cool and long-burning. Get that charm of Velvet's mellow age in your pipe today.

FARM DEPARTMENT.

Value in Milk Soups

A large variety of soups may be made by utilizing not only milk but also left-over portions of vegetables and other foods. In making them allow from one-half to one level tablespoon of flour to each cup of liquid (including milk and the juice and pulp of vegetables) and one level tablespoon of butter or other fat.

Some of the flavors which may be used are onions, corn, asparagus, cabbage, peas, beans, tomatoes, salmon or other fish, celery or grated cheese. These soups are nourishing and often-times a child not fond of milk can be persuaded to get down the daily quart necessary for his health by having part of it made into a milk soup.

For the first three days chicks may be fed a mixture of equal parts of hard-boiled eggs and rolled oats or stale bread, or stale bread soaked in milk. When bread and milk are used, care should be taken to squeeze all the milk out of the bread. From the third or fourth day commercial chick feed may be fed until the chicks are old enough to eat wheat screening or cracked corn.

Sheep Come Back. The high prices paid for lamb, mutton and wool have caused the Kentucky farmer to think about handling at least a small flock of sheep as he did in the past. There is also the safeguard of the new dog law which ought to be strictly enforced.

The farmer, who is already the possessor of a flock or the farmer who is planning for such a flock, should secure at once from the Kentucky State Experiment Station at Lexington, Ky., bulletin No. 215, "Care and Management of Sheep in Kentucky." This booklet of sixty-three pages should have a place on the table in the farmer's home so that he may pick it up for a ready reference book on sheep.

After taking up the various types of sheep which are handled in Kentucky, the bulletin goes very fully into the management of a flock, the handling of the wool, and the rotation of pastures. The last twelve pages of the booklet are used to give the new dog law in full. Every sheep breeder should have this law where he can use it for reference.

More Interest in Raising Sheep. As a result of high prices of wool

Spray Falls Short.

As some trouble has been experenced by owners of orchards in Kentucky, in the use of lime-sulphur sprays made from dry lime-sulphur, the Experiment Station at Lexington was asked to make a series of tests. The following has just come to your county agent giving in a very few words the tests showed:

Tests of dry lime and sulphur for sprays have been recently made by the Chemistry Department of the Experiment Station. Samples of dry lime-sulphur of recognized standard brands were bought on the open market for all tests made. None of the samples gave a solution of the required strength when 10 to 14 pounds were used in fifty gallons of water, the amount recommended on the packages.

All tests showed that dissolving dry lime-sulphur in cold water is a wasteful practice as much of the sulphur remained undissolved. In order to get a spray of the required strength it was found necessary to dissolve at least 24 pounds of dry lime-sulphur in ten or twelve gallons of boiling water and later to add enough cold water to bring the liquid used to 50 gallons. Even with the use of boiling water there was always a small amount of the material which was insoluble.

The Station believes that as boiling water and a large amount of the dry-sulphur are needed to give a spray of standard strength, it can not recommend this spray for general orchard work at this time.

MORRIS L. McCACKEN,
County Farm Agent.

Fowls for breeding purposes should be strong, healthy, vigorous birds. The comb, face, and wattles should be of a bright-red color, eyes bright and fairly prominent, head comparatively broad and short and not long or crow-shaped, legs set well apart and straight, plumage clean and smooth.

Watch For Army Worm. There is a probability that the army worm will do mischief locally in Kentucky this year. It was very common in some rye and barley fields in the Bluegrass region in early June, 1918, and while a large proportion of the worms was destroyed at that time by disease, enough escaped to do some mischief this spring. The insect is peculiar in attracting attention during wet seasons, whereas most insects become most numerous when the weather is dry. The weather we have had lately is thus quite favorable to the insect, and farmers should be prepared to deal with it in case they find it numerous in their fields. The army worm develops in strips of grass land at the edges of fields, ordinarily, and the destruction of these by fire or otherwise will greatly reduce the injury. Spraying strips of grass with arsenate of lead, 1½ to 2 pounds of powder in a barrel of water, can also be made to help in controlling the pest. After they begin to march they travel very persistently in any direction taken and can only be headed off by fire or by plowing trenches and using coal-oil on them where they accumulate.

Farmers are advised to look for them now, when with a little work of the sort suggested it may be practicable to prevent serious loss in wheat fields.

Raise Children's Wages.

Farm labor is very hard to secure and also very high priced. The big rush season on the farm is at hand. There are a thousand and one things to be done at once on every farm in the Middle West. This work must be attended to promptly and properly.

Fortunately the farmer is still selling all farm products at record-breaking figures. He can well afford to pay a great deal more for his labor than he ever could in the past. Any number of farmers have always been able to plant, cultivate and harvest their crops with the help of their own children. In many instances the labor of these children was poorly done because there was nothing in it for them but their board and keep.

These same farmers can now afford to pay these children extra money and thus put "pep" into all of the work they do on the farm.

The children's wages should be raised beyond the customary "board and keep" level and thus get their interest aroused in what they are doing. It will pay in dollars and cents; it will pay in the pleasure it will give the youngsters.

MORRIS L. McCACKEN,
Emergency Demonstration Agt.

All cockatoos not intended to be kept or sold for breeders should be marketed when they reach suitable size. Such birds confined in a homemade fattening battery or coop and fed a fattening ration for a week or ten days will not only increase in weight but bring better prices on the market, because of improved quality.

Exterminating the Lice.

An effective remedy for lice on chicks is a small quantity of melted lard rubbed under the wings and on top of the chick's head.

The free use of kerosene or crude oil on the roosts and in the cracks of the house will help to exterminate vermin.

It is possible and thoroughly practicable to keep the poultry flock reasonably free from lice and mites. Such practices should be the aim of every one who is endeavoring to establish a successful flock of poultry.

One of the Interesting Exhibits Shown at the Methodist Centenary Celebration

To prove that his soul is above worldly troubles and physical pain, this Hindu fakir nonchalantly reclines on a bed of spikes, much to the amazement of less spiritual observers. The bed of spikes will be one of the interesting exhibits shown at the Methodist Centenary Celebration, in Columbus, O., June 20 to July 13. Whether a fakir, Hindu or otherwise, can be found to demonstrate his power of endurance on it is still an unsettled question with celebration officials.

To Play Great Organ at the Methodist Centenary

MRS. MONTGOMERY LYNCH of Seattle will play the great $50,000 organ in the presentation of "The Wayfarer," the magnificent pageant of the Methodist Centenary Celebration, in Columbus, O., June 20 to July 13. Montgomery Lynch, her husband, will direct the chorus of 1,000 voices, which is a part of the pageant.

REDUCED FARE ADDS INTEREST

Visitors to Methodist Centenary to Be Well Cared For.

REGISTRATIONS ON INCREASE

Housing Committee of the Celebration Have More Than Forty Thousand Rooms In Private Homes at Their Disposal, Where Those Who Attend Can Be Lodged as Conveniently as at a Hotel.

Announcement by the government that a special low rate of one and a third fares for the round trip has been authorized for the celebration, Columbus, O., June 20 to July 13, has tremendously increased the interest in that event and advanced manifold the inquiries and registrations coming from all parts of the United States. At headquarters the other day a single mail brought cash registrations from 14 separate states and South America.

The low rate has increased work for the special committees, which are responsible for housing the large influx of visitors now seen to be certain. Accommodations fall into three classes:

First, the hotels, which have an average daily capacity of 5,000 visitors.

The second field of accommodation will be in public buildings, which have been specially fitted up for this sort of service for the celebration. These include the State School for the Blind, the State School for the Deaf, the large barracks which were provided at Ohio State University for the student army training corps, and other buildings of a similar nature held in reserve should the throng exceed even present generous expectations.

The third line of conveniences for the hospitality of Columbus lies in the homes of the citizens themselves. More than 40,000 rooms have been listed with the housing committee, and these are card indexed by location, telephone number and best means of access. Visitors to the celebration can be lodged as conveniently as a clerk at a hotel assigns a visitor to his room. In order that there might be no misunderstanding, the committee in charge has a uniform rate for accommodations in private dwellings. The charge will be

$1 per day for a single person in a room and $1.50 per day for two persons in a room. Always generously provided with restaurants, Columbus at the present time is having its number largely reinforced by reason of many places being turned into restaurants which were occupied as cafés before May 24, when the state became dry. In addition to these, extraordinary facilities for feeding large numbers quickly are being installed in the exposition grounds.

MONSTER SCREEN AT METHODIST CENTENARY

Special Lantern Devised For Throwing Pictures.

Finishing details are being placed on the arrangements for the erection of the largest screen for the projection of pictures ever built in the world. This is to be one of the features of the Methodist Centenary Celebration, to be held in Columbus, June 20 to July 13.

This monster screen will have a surface for pictures 115x115 feet. The actual structure will be several feet larger in each direction. A special lantern has been successfully devised for throwing these tremendous pictures the necessary distance. The screen will be 250 feet from the nearest spectator and will be built to withstand 40 pounds pressure to the square foot. The lantern which will project these pictures has already successfully thrown pictures on a screen in New York City across a distance of four and a half city blocks. According to Architect Harry C. Holbrook, the screen will be, in effect, three sides of a house. It is necessary to give it the foundations equivalent to a four-story building.

In order that there may be as much salvage as possible after the screen has served its purpose, the picture face will be of fitted lumber, which later will be treated with a white surface preparation.

The estimated cost of this screen will be $8,000. The screen and the lantern will be used in showing the tens of thousands of views, made all over the world by the Methodist Missionary Survey, which has the finest collection of pictorial reviews anywhere in the world.

Columbia Professor in Charge of Exhibits at Methodist Centenary

PROFESSOR LA MONT A. WARNER of Columbia University is director of fine arts and designer of exhibits and scenery for the Methodist Centenary Celebration, in Columbus, O., June 20 to July 13. On plans which he laid down, the multitude of exhibits, domestic and foreign, have been arranged in the buildings in scenic effects, making them at once appropriate and effective.

Professor Warner had charge of world exhibits held in Boston, Chicago, Baltimore and Providence in past years, and has studied and worked abroad.

NAVAL EXHIBITION.

U. S. Anti-Submarine Flotilla Now On Mississippi River.

The Anti-Submarine Flotilla, which the Navy Department assembled for visit to the Mississippi and its tributaries, is now on the river. It includes the U. S. N. Submarine K-5, the destroyer Isabel, the Submarine Chasers and the Flying Boats; all of which with a majority of their officers have seen active service in the War Zone. They completely illustrate the types of ships, guns and equipment which were used in fighting the "U" boats. The flotilla was sent to the Mississippi to give the people of this section every opportunity of seeing these ships, and of making a close inspection of them.

Proceeded by several days start by one of the Chasers, the flotilla is passing up the river to St. Louis. This port will be made the northern base, and on the trip down a visit will be made to all of the principal ports on either side of the river. In event of several towns being grouped, or accessible to a landing, the flotilla will call at the nearest landing. The itinerary is now being completed and every town to be visited will be notified in ample time of the coming of the Navy Fleet. A Scout Chaser will leave St. Louis in advance of the flotilla to call at all towns to complete arrangements.

It is also planned to have ships of the flotilla call at the principal ports on the Ohio above Cairo, the Mississippi above St. Louis, and the Illinois River. The exact dates and itinerary will be announced.

The flotilla carries a Navy band, a glee club of Blue Jackets and a baseball team. A display will be made at each port of motion pictures of navy life and training.

Chronic Constipation.

Perhaps you have never thought of it, but this disorder is due to a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the food. If you will drink an abundance of water, eat raw fruits and take lots of outdoor exercise, you may be able eventually to overcome it entirely. In the meantime use the most mild and gentle laxatives. Strong and harsh cathartics take too much water out of the system and make a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are easy and pleasant to take, and most agreeable in effect. Give them a trial.

FARMER GETS HOT END.

This office has just received an unusual report from the U. S. Department of Agriculture which shows an enormous variation of the prices paid for nitrate of soda and acid phosphate in the various sections of Kentucky and other states. This report is up-to-the-very minute as it was printed in May.

Of course, a reasonable difference in the prices of fertilizers in widely separated districts in the state, is to be expected, due to the difference in freight and hauling rates. However, when one farmer has to pay twice as much for his fertilizer as some other farmer in another section of the state, it can not be caused by freight or hauling unless it happened to be far back in the mountains. Sixteen percent acid phosphate was sold in Mercer county, Ky., for $25 and brought $43 in Carter county. Nitrate of soda sold for

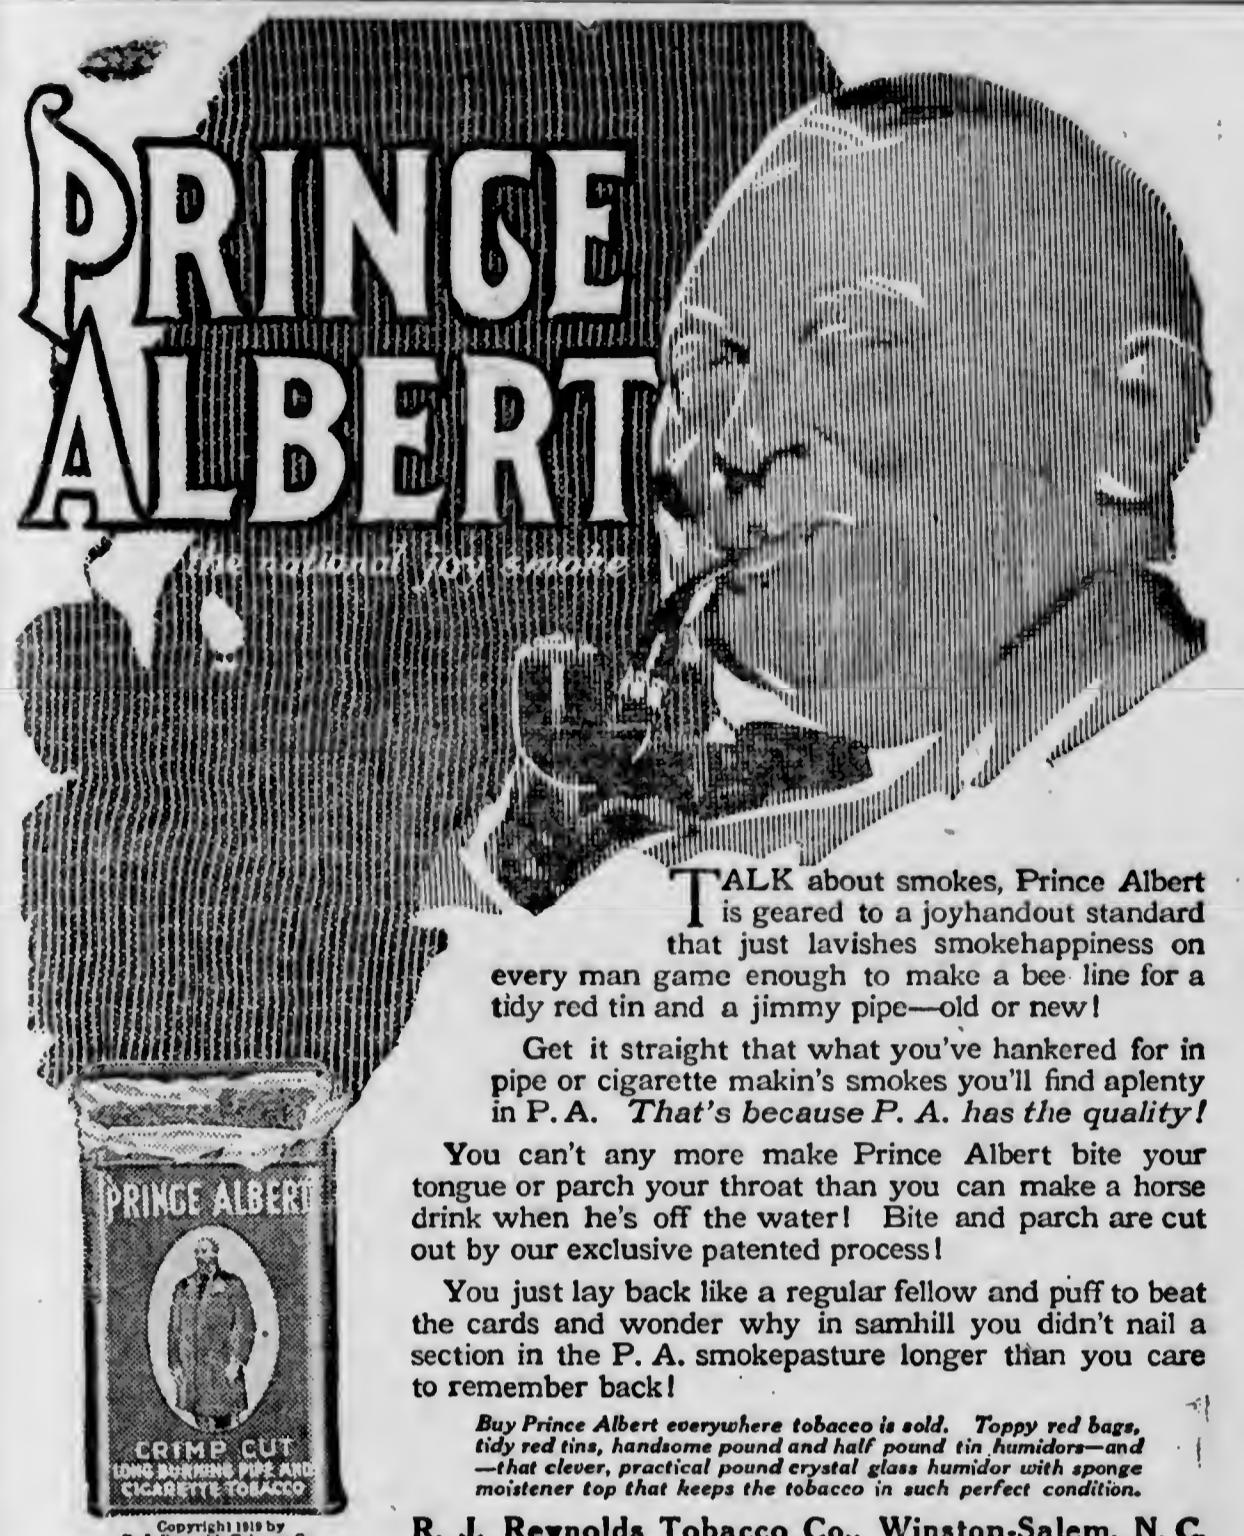

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

SOVIET—(Soviet)

MEANING COUNCIL

In politics it will form a Government by universal suffrage. There will be no contractual relations based upon property. The expectations in Soviet circles appear to be that a Government by commissioners upon the familiar Bolshevik plan will conduct the various departments.

I am writing in the Y. M. C. A. with a piano playing in my uniform. Please return my marriage certificate, baby hasn't eaten in three days. Please send me a wife's form.

Hello, Mr. War Risk Insurance, how are you? I am well and hope you are too.

I have four months-old baby and he is my only support.

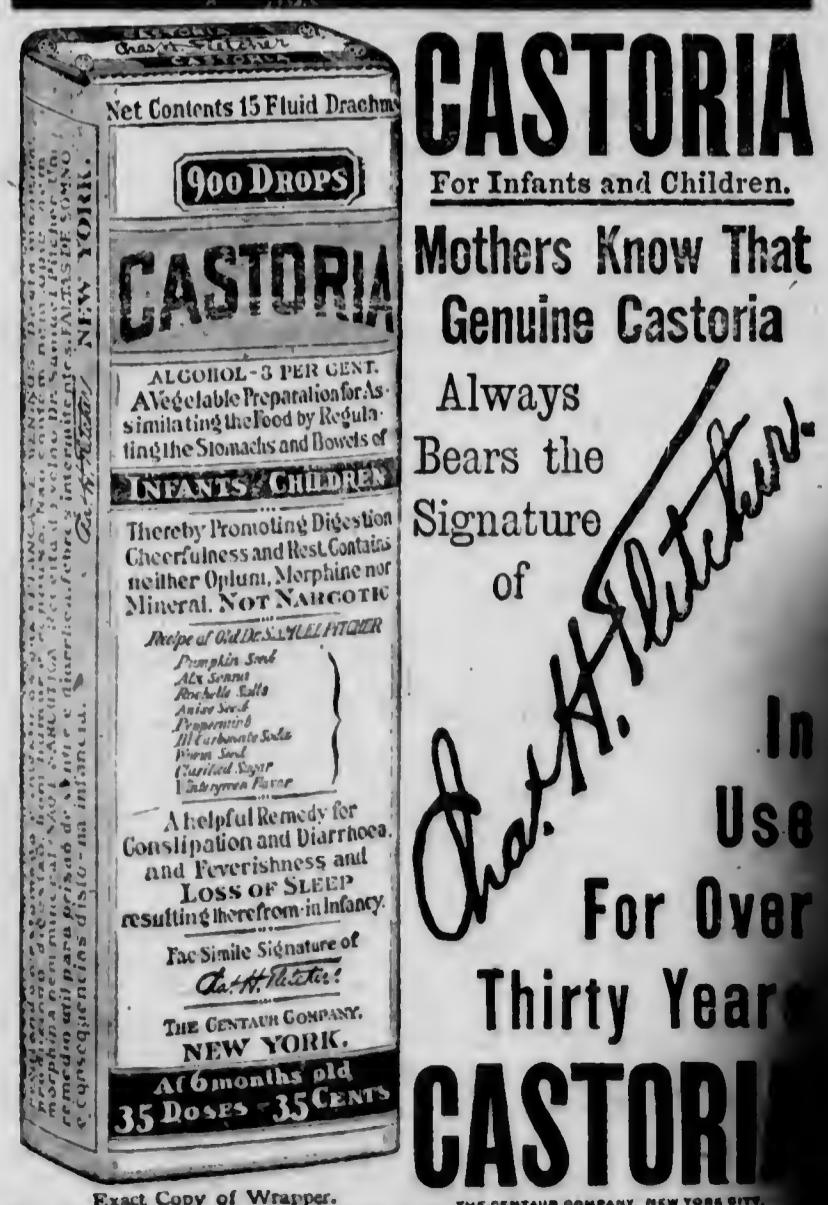

Dear Mr. Wilson, I have written to Mr. Headquarters and have received no reply and if I don't get one I am going to write Uncle Sam himself.

I am a poor widow and all I have is in the front.

I ain't received no pay since my husband has gone from nowhere.

I have been in bed 13 years with one doctor and intend to try another. You have changed my little girl to a boy. Will that make any difference?

If you have the itch, don't scratch. It does not cure the trouble and makes the skin bleed. Apply Bald's Snow Liniment. Rub it in gently on the affected parts. It relieves itching instantly and a few applications removes the cause thus performing a permanent cure. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Ohio County Drug Co.

STRAY STREAKS

(By Fluke McFluke.)

It is pretty hard on a feller to have the wet weather ketch him two ways. Just as the garden got dry enough to work I went off for a weeks fishin', and then the floods fell and made the creek to high to fish in and the garden too wet for the wife to plant while I was gone.

I found a snake in the office basement a while back and put away a pint of liquor as an antidote in case any of us got bit. When I got back off'n my fishin' trip I found a dead snake in the basement and the liquor gone. I asked John Henry about the liquor, and he said as he had killed the snake he didn't think it worth while to keep the liquor any longer. But Duke tolle me Thomas gave a colored boy fifty cents to bring in the dead snake.

The only business I know of that is all profit is a Squro marryln' people and a feller runnin' a pop corn wagon.

I ain't a goin' to tell n thing on Alec Portier when his wife comes home, but I'm scared to death 'fraud John Henry will blab somethin'

I'd a missed a whole weeks fishin' just to a got to see that boy, Alex Curtis, cut the pigeon wing at the rink Monday night.

Ed Barrass shore has been a honkyin' me up since we took that last fishin' trip. We didn't take no cook or anybody to do the camp work and we taught Ed how to clean fish, wash and dry dishes, fry flapjacks and most any thing there is to do about house and kitchen work and he's skeered like all slyt, feard his wife will find it out. Ed, you know has always told his wife he didn't know a bloomin' thing about such doings and 'till now he has said by with it.

It certainly is hard for a fat guy to separate himself from his "B. V. D's" these hot afternoons. Wish I was skinny, like Thomas.

We have beyond doubt, located one fellow who is a more faithful fisherman than old McFluke. We saw him fish from early morn till late in the afternoon, using nice live minnows for bait, without, as he said, getting a single dark tile, when he might as well have been plowing or doing some other nice pleasant farm work. He is a dead-game sport, a man after my own heart, and goes by the name of "Wat Taylor, of Matanzas, Ky."

PEACE DEFERRED.

The allied conferences at Versailles squabbles while conditions in central Europe grow constantly more unstable, and no man knows what a day may bring forth. Neither Germany nor Austria evinces any disposition to accept the peace terms offered them, and it is a fair assumption that unless the Allies' terms are considerably modified the day of peace is long deferred. Every day of delay encourages disintegration of the already loosely held together peoples of the enemy countries, and universal anarchy is not wholly improbable if the peace parley is much longer drawn out.

BOLT KILLS COWS.

During an electrical storm Saturday night a bolt of lightning killed two valuable cows and a young heifer for Mr. Frank Black, a farmer living just east of town. The cattle were lying under an apple tree when killed. The tree was torn to splinters. Mr. Black had another cow killed by a mule only a few weeks ago.

PEACE CONFERENCE

WANTING IN HARMONY

Again come reports from Paris that all is not going smoothly in the Council of Four as regards the definite settlement of points under argument, relating to the German Peace Treaty.

While it has been asserted that the final answer of the allied and associated Powers to the counter proposals of the Germans probably would be ready for delivery to the Germans at Versailles not later than Friday of this week, late dispatches declare that some of the larger questions at issue have not been solved and that considerable pessimism prevails as a result of this situation.

Notable among the points upon which no agreement has been reached, according to reports, is the Silesian question and the matter of the Polish western frontier. Added to this is the implacable stand of the French Premier, M. Clemenceau, against any modifications in the peace terms, contrary to the attitude of President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, who are deemed to have recognized the necessity for lessening somewhat the demands in certain clauses of the treaty, which would not fundamentally affect the severity of the document as a whole.

FRENCH ARE PASSIVE.

Although cable dispatches have intimated that the French are leaning favorably toward the new Rhine Republic, and that they even had issued instructions to their officers to notify the people of the district that the orders of Dr. Dorren, the President, were to be obeyed, a high French authority is credited with the statement that the attitude of France is a passive one; that the French forces have been instructed simply to maintain order and prevent violence by either side along the Rhine.

The ultimatum of Premier Clemenceau to the Hungarians that allied troops would be used against them unless they ceased their operations against the Czechoslovakians has borne fruit. Heinz Kun, the Hungarian Foreign Minister, has agreed to a cessation of hostilities, although he claims that the Czechoslovakians have been to blame for the fighting.

Get Thorough Cultivation Without Hard Work

accurately regulated by means of handy levers.

Because of its parallel shift rigs, its shovels always face squarely to their work. They never track or trail in dodging on crooked rows. No uncultivated spots are left. You get thorough cultivation over all of the field.

The rigs shift quickly in response to slight pressure on the foot levers. Guiding the rigs is as natural as walking.

We want you to see why using the John Deere KC Cultivator does away with the necessity for hard work, and at the same time gets the most thorough results.

Here are just a few of its features that will appeal to you.

Using it, you can meet every field condition without stopping to make adjustments. No wrench is necessary. Cultivation at even depth and distance of cultivation from the row are

DEVONIAN
After the "flu"

You know how you felt—you who have had the "flu." That easily tired feeling. You are "all in" after the least exertion. Just seems as if you cannot get your strength back. Weeks and months sometimes have gone by till you wonder if you are ever going to get well again. That is because you have not been drinking Devonian, the American Medicinal Mineral Water. Really wonderful are the reports that have come to us entirely unsolicited of the way Devonian has helped people after the "flu."

Its action is alterative and reconstructive. It enables the body to rid itself of the poisons left by the "flu." It tones up your system and very quickly you find yourself looking better and feeling better. Your old-time vigor returns. You feel like yourself once more. The reason that Devonian is so helpful, not only after the "flu," but in so many other human ailments, is that it contains those elements which, as far back as human knowledge goes into the past, have been recognized as helpful to the human system. By drinking Devonian regularly—a tablespoonful in a glassful of water—decayed food elements which have acted as poisons in the body are loosened and carried off. It is their presence in the bowels which have in many cases retarded and even prevented complete recovery.

Devonian is known and endorsed by the medical profession, and is prescribed by leading physicians everywhere. Its effectiveness in cases of Constipation, Rheumatic Affection, Hardening of the Arteries, High Blood Pressure, Eczema and similar skin diseases has been demonstrated time and again.

Devonian comes to you just as Mother Nature skillfully compounded it in her own laboratory, 1,000 feet underground. It is not changed, altered or condensed in any way. It is nature-made. That is why it is so good for you. So heavily laden is it with natural remedies that, as we have said, a tablespoonful in a glass of water is enough to take at a time in most instances. Thus a dose costs you only about a cent and a half, making it the cheapest remedy you can buy.

Devonia is to be had at most drug stores in the city. If you are desirous of knowing more about this wonderful medicinal water, write for our booklet, "The Story of a Well Man." Perhaps the facts it relates may have an important message for you. Use the coupon.
